Director, Leveraged Commentary & Data
S&P Global Market Intelligence

Luke joined Leveraged Commentary & Data (LCD) in January 2011 and has managed the European editorial team since 2013.

His primary coverage is the European leveraged finance markets, and global CLO markets.

Luke also writes about institutional fund raising, private equity, middle market, and distressed debt, and provides regular in-depth trend pieces about the leveraged finance markets.

Prior to joining LCD, he managed the real-time credit service at International Financial Review, where he covered CDS, investment-grade debt and high-yield.
